If they buy they will immediately invest fifty thousand dollars in improving the plant, and will put large water mains and will erect a reservoir with a capacity of fifteen million gallons.

The county commissioners held a protracted meeting today, and after deliberation decided to order the opening up of a boulevard to run from Jefferson street to Crump's park, parallel to the present Vineville road. This boulevard has been much discussed, and, no doubt, Mr. Buford Davis will make a strong legal fight against it.

ALABAMA'S CLAIMS.

Obstacles in the Way of Extraditing the Duellists.

COLUMBUS, Ga., August 20.—[Special.]—Hon. John W. Smith, a member of the legislature from Russell county, and one of the leading young lawyers of east Alabama, was in the city and expressed his views to a reporter in regard to the Williamson-Calhoun duel and the prospects of the duellists being extradited by the Alabama courts. In the first place, said Mr. Smith, Governor Seya has no power to act in the matter until some one sues at a warning against the participants in the duel, and this has not yet been done. In the second place, if reports are true, all of the witnesses were residents of Georgia and cannot reached by any process of the courts of Alabama, and not having committed any crime no requisition can be issued for them, as no warrant can be issued against them. In the third place, if warrants were issued for the principals and they were brought to Alabama on the requisitions of the governor, there would be no witnesses against them, and they would certainly be discharged, as the law does not compel any one to testify against himself. In the fourth place, if the principals are in no distinction between principals and accessories, the two seconds engaged in the duel are regarded in the same light as the principals. Hence they should not be brought to Alabama on requisition of the governor, except as participants in the crime. In the fifth place, the grand jury of the county in which the duel was fought is not competent to try the case, and therefore the reach of the process of the courts is the only way in which the witnesses could be reached would be to find them in Alabama and serve subpoenas upon them, or for the witnesses to voluntarily go to Alabama for the purpose of testifying. GEORGIA'S IMPROVEMENT.

The Tax Returns Show a Phenomenal Increase in the Value of Property.

The Tax returns for 1883 showed that property had increased in value throughout Georgia from $100,000,000 to $200,000,000. The returns have shown an increase but never has the amount for the year 1883 been equalled. This year, however, the high water mark will be passed and a new record established. Captain Furrow, of the comptroller general's office, has received up to date the tax delicts of each county, and they show an increase of $100,000,000 in the four counties including the city of Savannah. The returns from the other counties, to remain to be heard from, and they will record the record up $6,000,000 more. The tax collector of Fulton county predicts that his district will show at least $6,000,000 improvements. And should the other four counties

THE STATE'S MONEY.

MUST THE TAX RATE BE INCREASED?

State Treasurer Hardeman Presents Some Facts and Figures—Captain W. W. Gordon's Views.

Treasurer Hardeman's protest against session appropriations, with no money in the treasury to meet them, has stirred up considerable interest and comment.

The question most generally asked is—Will there be a necessary increase in the direct tax rate?

Colonel Hardeman isn't inclined to be positive, or even suppositional, about it. He talks dollars and cents, and hole-in-the-pocket, and then falls back on his faith in the wisdom of the legislature.

"In making up the budget last fall," said the colonel yesterday, "the soldiers' fund was put down at $120,000, and that sum was set apart for them. Up to last Saturday morning we had paid out to Confederate soldiers $158,500—$38,500 more than was calculated for the entire year."

"Then $2,500 was appropriated to the estate of General Tomblin. This was unforeseen and unprovided for."

"Then $9,000 was appropriated to Major Morgan. This was also unprovided for."

"The academy for the blind took $15,000 more. Another special appropriation."

"A bill is now pending to appropriate $20,000 for fixing the capital grounds. The lunatic asylum wants $200,000 more."

"Another $6,000 must be had to meet the deficiency in the printing fund."

"Another $6,000 must be had for the public building fund."

"What will be done about it?"

"Oh, well, that's it; that's the question. What is the legislature going to do about it? They must do something."

"Where shall it be?"

"It is due mainly to the special appropriations at this summer session. Then to begin with, the tax rate was fixed so that the expenditures for the year should be $13,000,000 more than the amount set aside to meet the regular, provided-for expenses. This was, in other words, an intentional provision that there should be a deficit of $13,000,000 at the end of the year, even if every expenditure had been foreseen and correctly calculated."

"What plans have been suggested to meet the exigency?"

"One is to repeal so much of the last tax act as gives to public schools the taxes on the excess of $360,000,000. This excess is about $20,000,000, and this would throw back $45,000 or $50,000 to meet current expenses."

"Another proposition is to double the $50 tax on liquor dealers, which would give us $500,000."

"Another is to levy a small additional direct tax."

CAPTAIN GORDON TALKS.

Mr. Gordon, of Chatham, chairman of the appropriations committee, quoted the following figures last night:

"In the first place there was the intended deficit of $13,000,000."

"The Confederate soldiers have called for and been given $38,500 more than the $20,000 set apart for them."

"There is the $15,000 for the Blind academy, $9,000 to Major Morgan, $2,500 for General Tomblin's estate, and the $1,000 to complete the roster of the state troops in the confederacy."

"That makes a total, so far, of $77,500 not provided for."

"The treasurer estimates that $6,000 more will be needed for printing, and $8,000 for the expense of keeping the capital in order. He estimates the deficiency appropriation at $4,000, and the amount needed to meet soldiers' claims at $25,000."

"These estimates are the maximum estimates. So the maximum estimated deficit is $120,000. A reasonably liberal estimate is $100,000."

"On the last day of the last session a conference committee recommended that the taxes on all property in excess of $340,000,000 be given to the common school fund. This excess is, in round numbers, $20,000,000, and the income at 2.70 per cent would make $540,000. This has always been left to meet contingent expenses, and it becomes necessary to do anything that amount will be amply sufficient to bridge over."

"Must anything be done?"

"Don't think so. You understand that there is plenty of money actually in the treasury to meet all these expenses, and what is meant by the statement that $100,000 more is needed is that that amount would pay absolutely every outstanding debt in order. But the state is not called upon to meet all these debts in a lump. It's like a bank doing business. If every single creditor called at the same time and demanded every cent of his money, it would shut up any bank in the United States. No bank calculates on that, but on a maximum probable demand. Calculating in the same common-sense way in this matter, I don't think there will be any need whatever for special legislation. Thousands of dollars of bonded indebtedness, in interest-bearing paper, is past due, but all this won't come in this year."

"I had the treasurer go before the appropriation committee simply to impress upon the minds of the committee the wisdom of guarding against possible danger. There is no real danger in it."

THOSE WHO MOVE ABOUT.

Atlanta's Who Have Been Away and Strangers Who Come to the City.

Abe Foot, the Whitehall street tramp, came home from New York yesterday. Mr. Foot was in the east nearly three weeks, and took in Long Branch, Coney Island, Montauk park and the Hudson river points. He reports much improved in appearance.

Lieutenant C. P. Gashin, of the Tenth United States Cavalry, company B, is in the city visiting Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Dole. Lieutenant Gashin is a graduate of West Point, and has been in the army about three years. He is a native of Alabama, and will visit his home near Tusculum on his furlough. He is now stationed in the city of Atlanta, and is now stationed in the city of Atlanta.

James W. Parton, of Nashville, one of the directors of the Ohio and Mississippi railroad, is at the Kimball. Mr. Parton reached Atlanta yesterday, and today will look over the city with some real estate men. He is here to select a home, and this fall will move his family to Atlanta. Mr. Parton is a gentleman of wealth, and with his family will form a valuable acquisition to Atlanta socially.

M. Benjamin, once a well known Atlanta tobaccoist, reached Atlanta yesterday from New York. Mr. Benjamin has been in New York several months—just long enough to convince him that there is no place like Atlanta. He is here to remain some time. On the boat which brought Mr. Benjamin from New York to Savannah were Mayor Glenn and his family.

Hon. William Cargille, of Terre Haute, Ind., is at the Markham. Mr. Cargille is a prominent political factor in his state, and is a member of the county democratic executive committee. He has been through North Carolina searching for cool weather the past month, and is now en route home.

Hon. Tom Glenn, Atlanta's mayor, is now moving between Atlanta and Savannah. Mr. Glenn reached Savannah from New York Monday, and will arrive home today.

AN AUCTION SALE.

Messrs. W. M. Scott & Co., yesterday held the second annual sale of Edgewood avenue property.

The property sold is on the corner of Edgewood avenue and Highland street. It consists of a small store and two dwelling houses. The lot was 50x100 feet, fronting 50 feet on Edgewood avenue.

Mr. Joe Hart bought the property for $1,500.

FOR LABOR DISPUTES.

SENATOR RICE'S BILL PROVIDING FOR ARBITRATION.

What the Bill Provides—The Author Talks of It—Mr. Woodward on the Labor Side.

The bill recently introduced by Senator Frank Rice, known as the arbitration bill, is being eagerly discussed by all the labor associations in the city.

The objects of the bill are stated in its title. It is an act to provide for the amicable adjustment of grievances and disputes that may arise between employers and employees, and to authorize the creation of a state board of mediation and arbitration for the speedy and more permanent adjustment of the differences between employers and employees.

In order that these intentions may be carried out, the governor is authorized, with the sanction of the senate, to appoint three competent persons to act as arbitrators, who will serve two years. One shall be an employer, and his employer, provided the employer has twenty men in his service. They shall visit the locality of the dispute and make careful inquiry into the cause. Then they will advise the respective parties what, if anything, ought to be done by either or both to adjust the dispute.

The board are authorized by the bill to compel witnesses to appear before them and to send for all persons or papers, who can help toward a clear understanding of the case.

When the state arbitrators are called in, their decision shall be binding for six months or until notice has been given in writing by either party that they refuse to be bound at the expiration of sixty days.

One clause in the bill provides for the appointment of a sub-board of arbitration for special cases who must report their findings to the state board.

In payment of these services each arbitrator shall receive $5 a day besides his actual and necessary expenses. This pay, however, will only be received while the board is deciding difficulties.

SENATOR RICE'S VIEWS.

Senator Rice takes a great interest in the passage of the bill, because he believes that it will be of the greatest service to both capital and labor.

In talking about it yesterday he said: "I have thought over this matter carefully, and I think such a measure will be greatly needed in the future. Manufactures are constantly increasing in Georgia, and with them naturally come disagreements. Now, if the people are honest in wishing to settle their difficulties, this bill will do it. It gives capital a representation, and gives labor an equally fair chance."

"Do you think strikes would be obviated by this bill?"

"They might not be altogether obviated but I do think that they would be materially lessened. There was a great strike in Augusta last year. I think there had been a board of arbitration to call in the whole matter might have been settled and a great deal of suffering avoided."

"Would the board's powers be like those of the railroad commission?"

"No. The railroad commission has the power of enforcing its judgments; the arbitration board will have no such power of enforcing its decisions. If the parties refuse to be guided by the judgment of three unbiased, competent men, they could not be forced to it, unless a law was passed to that effect, and that would be going much further than I would care to go."

"Have other states found such a law useful?"

"They have, indeed. I don't know exactly how many, but several of the northern and western states have adopted a law similar in intention. My bill, however, is different in some respects from any one I have ever heard of. I have drafted it with an eye to the future, and it is in the future that I think this law will be most needed."

MR. J. K. WOODWARD, the prominent Knight of Labor, said, when questioned yesterday: "The bill is all right, and it is just what is needed. With a board of arbitration there need be no strikes. Three years ago Dr. Curtis and myself were appointed to draw up such a bill, but it never came to anything. I think you think it would do much good."

"There can be no question of the good it would do. For instance, only last week, when Lieberman & Kaufmann's men struck, if there had been a board of arbitration, work would never have been stopped. The men would have stated their cause of complaint and would have gone right on until a decision could have been reached."

"Would such a board have much work to do in Georgia?"

"The members would certainly have their hands full. We are very conservative here and don't believe in strikes, but Dr. Curtis and myself have been called on five times in one day to settle difficulties between the employers and employees. There are a great many unions that make against manufacturers and laborers, simply because they have some grievances, and feel there is no way of righting them."

STILL THEY COME.

New Applications Every Day—Douglas and McIntosh Counties in Line—Other Notes.

The business at the exposition headquarters grows larger every day, and it is now a certainty that this exposition will eclipse any previous attempt ever made in this section. Applications were filed yesterday from Douglas and McIntosh counties, and Scheller's agent was at a meeting of the citizens of McIntosh, held at Brunswick, the following resolution were adopted: "That the chairman of the meeting be authorized to apply for the exhibition of the McIntosh county fair."

The publication of the late papers in yesterday's Constitution has created much talk and stirred up new enthusiasm among the people. Solicitor Cohen left last night for the east where he will secure the best attractions that money will obtain for our exposition. Attention is called to the fact that space is already being taken, and those who desire good locations should make application immediately. Tremendous crowds are expected as coming from all sections, and the exhibition will have not one, but two crowded days, and every day the grounds will be full.

Attention has been made by which the dairy will be supplied with every conceivable article used in that line, and the building is to be enlarged to three times its present size, and the scope of this exhibit will give new impetus to the industry. Everything is moving excellently, and this day of the exposition will break the record of exhibitions ever held by being ready on the day advertised. The management have promised that this shall be an exception, and that when the gates of the exposition grounds shall be thrown open that everything shall be ready. A gentleman returning from southwest Georgia says that the prospects of crops are so good that nearly every farmer here believes and he believes that the attendance at the exposition will be unparalleled. Everything is on the boom, and the outlook is an exceedingly bright one.

THE ELECTRIC WIRES.

Shook a Workman, and He Sues the Company for Damages.

The Georgia Electric Light company has been sued for $15,000 damages by Drury A. Jett, an employee of the company.

Jett, through his bill, alleges, that in December last he was sent to repair a wire that had broken at the corner of Marietta and Barrow streets. He was in the act of connecting the two ends when the current was turned on. Jett had both ends of the wire in each hand, and the shock was so great that he could not let go his hold for some minutes. He became unconscious and fell several feet, lodging in a network of telegraph wires.

The shock caused him intense pain, and he maintains that his entire nervous system was disorganized and impaired by it.

THE NEGRO PAPER.

Remembered a Daily is Soon to be Started by Them.

The colored people of Atlanta are about to embark in a new enterprise.

It was rumored yesterday that the negroes are to have a daily newspaper of their own, to be edited by themselves and devoted to their own interest. Out of this money a sufficient sum will be paid to secure the exclusive use of a press.

The best known colored people in Atlanta are said to be interested in the plan, and if money is required they are able to supply all that will be necessary. Nothing definite has yet been done. A meeting will be held next Tuesday evening, and the company will then be organized. The new sheet will be published every afternoon.

A broken head, twenty days of unconsciousness, three months of suffering and a dangerous operation, have been the result of Mr. L. W. J. McLellan's attending a ball in Berrien county.

On the 12th of May Mr. McLellan, who is a highly respected young farmer of Berrien county, went to a party given near Tifton. He left his home full of pleasant anticipations, because he expected to meet the girl he loved best and pass the evening in her society. As he approached the door of the house he was met by his first cousin, Mr. Thomas Walker, who was in love with the same young lady.

THE WEBER BAND WILL GIVE A CONCERT TODAY.

Yesterday at Chautauqua Brought Out Some Excellent Lectures—Programme for Today—Other Chautauqua News.

The programme as advertised in the papers was fully carried out. Dr. Kent delivered a fine and eloquent lecture on yesterday. He received the undivided applause and approval of the people. Dr. W. L. Davidson delivered a strong lecture on yesterday on the "Authenticity of the Bible." Dr. DeMott delivered a lecture at 5 o'clock on the "Eye, and How We See." The audience who heard Dr. DeMott were carried away with this magnificent lecture. They held him forty minutes after the lecture was over asking him many questions concerning it. There has never been a more enthusiastic audience than the one who heard him yesterday. It is sure that Dr. DeMott cannot be surpassed as a platform lecturer. The art exhibition of Mrs. Hall as a teacher, and the great rapidity with which her students have progressed. The floral decorations were unique, and the motto which she adopted would certainly lead to success—"Nulla Dies Sine Linea." Large letters in evergreen, S. S. F. A., was suspended immediately above the motto. One hundred crayon pictures and some oil paintings were on exhibition.

The judges found a great deal of trouble in deciding who was entitled to the prizes. After a long and careful consideration they awarded to Mrs. Dr. J. M. Massey, of Douglasville, for the best shading in crayon drawing, and the best free hand drawing was awarded to Miss Annie Anderson, of Newnan, Ga. The friends of these ladies paid them great tribute on their success. Dr. W. L. Davidson, one of the judges said, this was the first exhibition of the kind he ever saw, that every one of the students deserved and ought to have had a prize.

The concert last night by the Weber band was said by those present to have been the finest production of music ever heard at Chautauqua. At the conclusion of the solo by Professor John C. Weber, Colonel J. S. Jones, general manager, presented to Mr. Weber, on behalf of the Chautauqua ladies, a magnificent floral offering in the shape of a lyre as a token of their appreciation of the magnificent music rendered by their band during their stay at Chautauqua. This is their last day at Chautauqua, and the people should turn out in force to hear their last concert.

The management will continue the Chautauqua until the 31st inst., and nothing will be left undone to make every day's attractions superior to any that have heretofore been seen at Chautauqua.

PROGRAMME WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 21ST.
10 a. m. Chorus class, conducted by Professor D. C. McAllister.
11 a. m. Lecture—Dr. Chas. W. Kent—"With Hawthorne in Rome."
3 p. m. Formal closing of the summer college, reports and addresses.
4 p. m. The last concert and music by the Weber band.

5 p. m. Lecture at the C. L. C. C. round table.

7 p. m. Chorus class, under the direction of Professor D. C. McAllister, assisted by the Chautauqua orchestra and band. This band will play its first instalment.

8 p. m. Lecture by Dr. John B. DeMott, of DePaul University, Indiana—"The Witchery of a Glimpse, or How a Beam of Light Tells Its Story."

In this lecture Dr. DeMott's, in addition to several new experiments, illustrating some of the most recent and curious properties of life, a complete set of the monochromatic lights, specially prepared by L. J. White, of New Orleans, will be used to prove the different effects produced upon the mind by their more or less rapid wave vibrations, also the effects of false colors produced by their various shades. The lecture will conclude with the interesting experiment of changing music to light and color. A well prepared quartette, several solo singers, and several modern instruments will assist in this beautiful experiment. This will be one of the finest and most interesting lectures at Chautauqua. By the apparatus used by Dr. DeMott, we will be able to hear not only the music rendered by the band, but will be made to see the tune itself as it is played, besides any other sound, we will not only hear them, but through the ingenuity of this great American lecturer, by scientific apparatus applied, you will be able to see the tune, and every part of it as it is played. This will be a grand sight to witness, and every Georgian should avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing and seeing this brilliant lecture of Dr. DeMott's. Let the trains be crowded today. Go on the train that leaves at 8:55 a. m., 1:15 p. m., 5 p. m., and 5:30 p. m. A grand time at Chautauqua tomorrow.

West End Academy.

At a meeting of the board of trustees of the West End academy, Monday night, Professor J. H. Featherstone was elected to the vacancy created by the resignation of Professor Blegen, who goes to America to take charge of the public schools there. Professor Featherstone comes to West End well recommended. He has had many years experience as a teacher, and there is no doubt that he will keep the academy up to the high standard which it has occupied since its organization. The board also reduced the price of tuition to one dollar per month for West End and county pupils. Pupils from the city will pay one dollar and a half per month as heretofore. The academy is in a very prosperous condition, and the citizens of West End are fully determined to continue to give it their support and patronage. The prospects are that the next scholastic year will be the most prosperous the institution has ever had.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., August 21.—A great crowd surrounded the Burnett house when the president left to catch the train for here. Some spectators in the corridor saw the president kiss a wee tot of a child in his mother's arms as he was coming down the stairway, and this continued until the president drove off accompanied by the committee from Indianapolis and Cincinnati. A vast crowd bid him a cheerful God speed at the station. The whole population of the surrounding country as present each time the train stopped en route.

At Hamilton a cannon thundered forth a presidential salute as the train drew up. The president stood on the bottom step of the rear platform, shaking hands right and left, hand over hand.

FLOUR.

America's Finest!

There are thousands of magnificent works of art exhibited for the world's approval, but rare indeed are the masterpieces of superlative excellence. The American people have passed judgment on the excellence of the production offered for their choice, and this verdict, whether at the world's great exhibitions, at the banquets and feasts or at the table at home, has been almost unanimous as to the greatest efforts to produce the finest and richest and best flour that can be made.

Pillsbury's Best AND Postel's Elegant

Are, we believe, the highest mark ever attained in the production of flour, making the finest, the richest and sweetest bread and pastry. It is true, they cost a little more than the "patent" flour offered in the market, but it is also true that the difference in quality is worth the difference in price. We offer both these to the merchants of Georgia as the finest and the best, and warrant them absolutely pure.
